

Fellow of Dietitians Australia (FDA) Policy

Our Fellows of Dietitians Australia (FDA) credential recognises dietitians with advanced skills, who have enhanced the health of the community.

The FDA credential is considered a honour by Dietitians Australia.

To achieve FDA status, Accredited Practising Dietitians (APDs) need to complete an application process. Once it has been awarded, you don't need to re-apply.

In this policy:

- eligibility for the credential
- how the award is presented
- competency standards to achieve FDA status
- the assessment process
- the application process

For more, download our Fellow of the Dietitians Australia \(FDA\) Policy.