Dietitians Australia

Our asks in the Victorian election 2022

We call on candidates in the 2022 Victorian election to increase access to Accredited Practising Dietitians across the health system including in mental health services and public hospitals.

We also call on the government to commit 5% of the health budget to preventive health. By reducing chronic disease and improving the health of Victorians, we can reduce pressure on hospitals and their staff, and support public health.

Read about our priorities in our briefing paper.
