Annual Pricing Review 2022-23 - Submission 2023

Submission to the National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA)

Dietitians Australia advocates for fair and equitable pricing structures that will ensure the accessibility of nutrition and dietetic services to NDIS participants.

In this submission we:

- recommend the NDIA increase pricing limits for nutrition and dietetic supports in line with inflation and address the suite of issues raised in our previous submission
- highlight the cost drivers of dietetic services
- bring to attention new research that supports the critical need to address dietetic pricing issues within the NDIS. This includes research on the extent and cost of nutritional neglect.
