In a time of unprecedented change and challenges within the global environmental crisis, the Pathway to Planetary Health is a guide that advocate dietitians have designed to promote and support individual and collective confidence to undertake pro-environmental change in peoples' personal and professional lives.

This tool (PowerPoint presentation including embedded videos and activities and accompanying poster) is freely available for use by dietitians, nutrition professionals, and individuals who want to support pro-environmental change in a range of settings.

Designed using the co-authors' combined knowledge, the Pathway to Planetary Health features 6 dimensions:

1. Agency - vision, self-belief, confidence, strength and responsibility
2. Action - start, shift, translate, achieve and commit
3. Ascension - build, overcome, manage, challenge and progress
4. Alignment - leadership, transparency, diplomacy, values and systems
5. Alliance and Allyship - support, collaborate, represent, community and citizenship
6. Advocacy and Activism - disrupt, co-design, transform, empower and urgency

Each dimension forms part of the process of positive change – the dimensions all interact and people will move within and between each dimension, but they are all important.

45 dietitian participants at a Dietitians Australia conference reporting a statistically significant change in confidence to undertake pro-environmental change in their personal lives, from 4.1 0.7/5 to 4.5 0.8/5 and professional lives from 3.6 1.0/5 to 4.3 0.9/5 when undertaking a workshop that showcased the Pathway to Planetary Health.

Project partners

We acknowledge the Traditional Owners of Country throughout Australia and recognise their continuing connection to lands, waters and communities. We pay our respect to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures; and to Elders past and present.

Artwork

The artwork featured within the Pathway to Planetary Health is by artist Jessie Mordey of Zomered Style. Jessie is a First Nations woman and likes to create traditional symbolic images that connect strongly with her Torres Strait Islander Heritage. These images represent identity, Torres Strait Heritage, connection to ancestors, cultural storyline, community, and connection to natural elements.

The symbolism for each dimension is her interpretation of the dimension. For example:

- For Action the shark keeps moving forward and can adapt
- The turtle in Agency includes stamina and survival with the sun for growth
- The stars in Ascension act as a compass to guide Islanders home
- The clamshell for Alignment symbolises direction and connection to self
- For Alliance and Allyship the flower and plant represent peace, trust, relationship and communication
- The woven fish is meaningful for strength in bonding and moving together.
