

VICTORIAN ELECTION SCORECARD 2022

Dietitians Australia asked the Victorian Labor Party, the Liberals and Nationals and the Victorian Greens to complete an election scorecard, rating their commitment to our 3 key election requests. We rated their responses to determine the scores below.

Read the full responses from the Liberals and Nationals, the Labor party and the Victorian Greens on our website.

MENTAL HEALTH Every Local and Area Mental Health and Wellbeing Service across Victoria be funded to include Accredited Practising Dietitian (APD) services.	X	X	X
PUBLIC HEALTH AND HEALTH POLICY Commit to implementing and funding actions from both the National Preventive Health Strategy (2021) and National Obesity Strategy (2022), including commit to investing 5% of the health budget in preventative health.	X	X	X
PUBLIC HOSPITALS Increase the dietetic workforce in public hospitals, community health, justice, disability, maternal, newborn and child health services, and aged care services.	X	X	X

Scorecard key:

-  Party policies align with Dietitians Australia's election request
-  Party policies partially align with our election requests or include elements that support the request but the extent of commitment is unclear or poorly defined
-  Party policies conflict with Dietitians Australia's election request or there is no policy or commitment to the election request
